

Mark Johnston for LDEG Chair

LDEG has been under-performing for too long. At the same time, our party is lagging behind in the polls, and membership is less than half what it was six years ago. If Reform forms the next UK government then it's goodbye to our ECHR membership too.

We must do better. We are uniquely placed to lead on repairing and renewing our relations with our European friends and neighbours. We need economic recovery to pay for public services. Thus a strong European message is central to party fortunes at the next election.

But this will not happen unless we organise now to make this a reality soon.

If you elect me to Chair LDEG, then together we can begin to turn things around. With over 200 members already, LDEG is a critical mass in the party with huge potential. Time is short but by working hard this year LDEG can help the party set a pro-European and Liberal course for towards success at the next election, boosting both party and country.
